

A Notice for your SDA provider

An Easy Read guide for you

How to use this guide

Consumer Affairs Victoria (CAV) wrote this guide. When you see the word 'we', it means CAV.

We have written this guide in an easy to read way.

We use pictures to explain some ideas.

We have written some words in bold.

We explain what these words mean.

There is a list of these words on page 7.

This Easy Read guide is a summary of a notice.

You can find the notice on our website at www.consumer.vic.gov.au/sda

You can ask for help to read this guide.

A friend, family member or support person may be able to help you.

What is specialist disability accommodation?

Specialist disability accommodation (SDA) is accessible housing for people with disability.

SDA is part of the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

When you live in SDA, we call you an SDA resident.

The housing is provided by an SDA provider.

What is this guide about?

This guide is about a notice for your SDA provider.

The notice is called a Notice to SDA provider.

This notice is for you to use when you need to tell your SDA provider something.

You might use the notice to tell your SDA provider you need to install something in your SDA that will support you with your daily life.

You might use the notice to tell your SDA provider something at your SDA is broken or damaged and needs to be fixed.

You should use the notice if you need something fixed and it is:

- urgent
- not urgent.

You might use the notice to tell your SDA provider you plan to vacate your SDA.

When you vacate your SDA, you move out.

Sending the notice

You can give your SDA provider the notice:

- in person
- in the mail
- by email.

You can only send your SDA provider the notice by email if your SDA residency agreement says it is ok.

Your SDA residency agreement is an agreement between you and your SDA provider.

It explains:

- how you can expect to be treated
- the things you must do.
