A Notice of intention to sell from your SDA provider

An Easy Read guide for you
How to use this guide

Consumer Affairs Victoria (CAV) wrote this guide. When you see the word ‘we’, it means CAV.

We have written this guide in an easy to read way.

We use pictures to explain some ideas.

We have written some words in bold.

We explain what these words mean.

There is a list of these words on page 7.

This Easy Read guide is a summary of a notice.

You can ask for help to read this guide.

A friend, family member or support person may be able to help you.
What is specialist disability accommodation?

Specialist disability accommodation (SDA)

is accessible housing for people with disability.

SDA is part of the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

When you live in SDA, we call you an SDA resident.

The housing is provided by an SDA provider.
What is this guide about?

This guide is about a notice from your SDA provider.

The notice is called a Notice of intention to sell.

If you get this notice, it means your SDA provider is planning to sell your SDA.
Sending the notice

Your SDA provider can give you the notice:

- in person
- in the mail
- by email.

Your SDA provider must explain the notice to you in a way that you can understand.

Your SDA provider can only send you the notice by email if you have said it is ok in your agreement.
If they need to, your SDA provider will also give the notice to:

- a member of your family

- your carer or support person

- your guardian or administrator – someone who makes decisions for you

- an advocate – someone who speaks up for people with disability who can’t speak up for themselves.
Word list

Advocate
Someone who speaks up for people with disability who can’t speak up for themselves.

Guardian or administrator
Your guardian or administrator is someone who makes decisions for you.

Notice of intention to sell
If you get this notice, it means your SDA provider is planning to sell your SDA.
